

Interactive H&S Training

Many companies now realise the need to provide some form of Health & Safety training to new and existing staff to meet their legal obligations and mitigate claims should things go wrong.

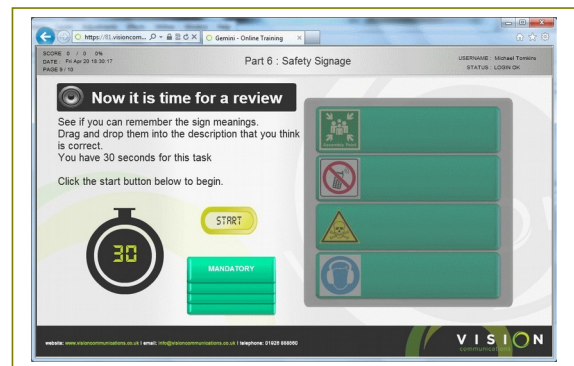

Vision e-learning H&S Training is an efficient and cost effective way for a company to meet these aims whilst providing an interesting insight for new or existing employees. This modular interactive training programme is very user friendly and is supported by an informative narration that is easily understood by recipients.

All training modules have simple selectable answers at each critical stage of the training to ensure a sound knowledge of each topic, which is supported by a certificate of achievement emailed to administrators on completion of training. At the same time the system generates individual training records for all staff to verify training completed including pass rates and further certificate copies.

Select from the following training modules:

- H&S Law
- Fire Safety at Work
- Accidents Procedures
- Hazardous Substances & Labelling
- Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)
- Safety Signage
- Workstation Display Screen Equipment
- Manual Handling
- Working at Heights Using Ladders

Each Training module is very concise and to the point and should take between 10 to 15 minutes to complete. Simply select and build the training programme for each employee based on his or her job roles and elements of risk. Our aim is to provide e-learning training that is interesting, relevant and just long enough to be insightful without becoming boring or repetitive.
